Description

Benzoin Resin Incense (styrax). The balsamic resin from the Benzoin Tree (a small tree which grows in Sumatra, Indonesia). The trees are tapped to produce the resin. Benzoin is known as an antiseptic and is warming and comforting to the spirits. It has a sweet balsamic vanilla-like scent and an intense yet warm and sensuous aroma. Burn in a specific resin incense burner using a charcoal disc. Light the disc and wait for it to become grey in appearance. Sprinkle a small amount of resin on top. The resin will melt and release the comforting smoke. Or throw a small handful on an open fire. Perfect for home use, meditation or ceremonies.
