Description

An attractive circular plaque which attaches by magnetism to any steel radiator. There is a small dish at the front for you to pour your favourite essential oil(s) or fragrance oil(s) into. Attach to a radiator and add the oils. The heat from the radiator will vapourise the oils to freshen or perfume your room. Especially useful during the winter to burn cold busting oils such as tea tree or eucalyptus.

Great small product, easy to clean & safe to use, especially around children. No other oil or wires or candles to worry about.

I really like this. It is small, neat, discreet and practical. It makes a superb stocking filler. One perched on a bedroom radiator and filled with water, lavender and chamomile is great for calming small children. It's excellent! Very fair price, too.

Super impressed with this! For some reason I didnt expect it to be as effective as it actually is. I put a couple of drops in and the room smelt almost immediately - this is great, highly recommended
